18th International contest of children's and youth's artistic creativity

2012-06-04

Banska Stiavnica (Slovakia) presents another edition of the international creative art contest for children and youths dedicated to world cultural heritage. Contestants' works portraying Krakow or another city as a UNESCO world heritage site need to be delivered by 30 April 2012.

World Heritage - a Youthful Vision is held in three age categories:

- children up to the age of 9
- children between 10 and 12 years old
- youths between 13 – 15 years old

Contest works - drawings, paintings, water colours, monotypes, linocuts, intarsias, collages etc. - are to be prepared in a standard postcard size (10 cm x 14 cm) and sent in an envelope tagged VISION 2012 to the following address:

Mestsky urad
Radnicne nam. 1
969 24 Banska Stiavnica
Slovak Republic

Works by students of the same school should be sent in one envelope. Individual contestants (who do not enter the competition via school) can send up to three works. The works must be delivered by 30 April 2012!

The works should fill the entire postcard size page. Please write (in capital letters) the contestant's name, surname, age and school address on the back.

The topic - author's vision of world heritage sites - is particularly wide and can be freely interpreted by the contestants. Works can be inspired by history, art, the people and every day life of the UNESCO list cities, travel memories or other.

One work selected from each age category will be awarded. An exhibition of the winning works will open in Banska Stiavnica on 31 May 2012.

Additionally, the most interesting works by students from Krakow will be published on our city's official web site. Please send a digital copy of your work (scanned copy, good quality photograph) to the following e-mail address: Agata.Mierzynska@um.krakow.pl. Additional information available at: +48 12 616 15 11.

It is worth mentioning that Krakow students successfully participated in previous editions of the contest!

We strongly recommend this competition!
